There are lots of different gift ideas out there and Andre Iguodala jerseys there. Techno gadgets are in high demand, but one of the greatest gifts you can give your child (and your family) does not light up or require any special apps. Families are becoming more sedentary and are spending less time together than ever before. Try installing a basketball hoop as a gift - amazing things can happen. Family memories are made during a one-on-one game in the driveway. Pickup games with neighbors, challenges from siblings and cousins, and simple games of horse go a long way to developing a bond that surpasses any other. Not sure where to begin? Not sure you even like the sport? Consider the fact that once you install a basketball hoop, you have installed a source of exercise, entertainment and plain old fun.

Take some time to work on your game and just shoot around when you need a little fresh air or need to reduce stress. Invite your kids or your spouse to play a game of horse after supper. Before long you will realize that great memories are being made in the driveway - and that is the best kind of gift that there is!
