Since being introduced in a skin far different from its own, Beaverton is set to release an Nike Air Max 98 Sale quite simple overall in a pairing of just two strong color choices. Uppers, in their usual synthetic and molds, sit mostly in a black dye, hitting almost every accent — e.g. the piping, mudguards, mesh top lines, patent leather eye stays, etc. — in the ever-dark shade.

Included in this collection are five retro silhouettes crafted in vibrant, era-specific colorways. The Air Jordan 4 Retro is draped in a full black pony hair upper; the Nike Air Footscape sees a wild zebra-striped pattern; the Nike Air Max 98 Cheap goes heavy with rave-friendly neons; the Air Force 1 Low applies a plush corduroy; the Air Mowabb stays true to the streets with a rugged outdoors theme.

Nike isn't quite done with snakeskin just yet, applying the luxe fabrications to almost each and every one of their Nike Air Max 98 Men icons. The newest to take on the textural mosaic is luckily the Nike Air Max 98 Women whose various segments use the newfound tooling in pleasing minimalism; instead of bearing it throughout its total constructions in true-to-life form, Beaverton has simply embossed the various scales across its entire mudguard layers with those adjacent staying simple in various flat materials.
