A new era in sneakerhead culture, the Prophere steps out with a bold look inspired adidas sneakers for men by the archives. A stretch knit upper combines with a structured, sculpted midsole made in PU for a resilient feel. Aggressive, eye catching and never apologetic. Prophere reveals the future one step at a time. These shoes combine a knit upper with an elastic collar for easy entry.

Playing on bold and exaggerated proportions, this sneaker comes with a chunky midsole adidas prophere green underfoot. Unlike most adidas models in 2019, the German sportswear juggernauts have opted to leave BOOST out and replaced it with a rubber and polyurethane combination, that offers just as much support and comfort.

The Adidas Prophere shoes emphasize blending classic and trendy. These unique looking shoes are a great choice for the gym or for the athleisure style. adsmithfwt It's more likely that you'll be wanting to wear them everywhere. Not all athletic shoes are created equal. Sporting a contrasting midsole and a speckled upper design with a wide variety of style options, there is a look for every buyer out there.

Now the Prophere returns once more, in a militaristic Trace Olive colourway with shocking Solar Red accents, alongside a long-awaited Triple Black option. adidas sneakers white Both colourways retain the neoprene boot-fit upper with marled knit facing, oversized 3 Stripe lace stays and elasticated tongue loop, along with tonal iterations of the unmistakable, sculpted sole unit that provides all-day comfort and an eyecatching appearance.
